John Boehner
Speaker of the House
Office of the Speaker
H232 the Capitol
Washington, DC 20515-0001

Dear Speaker Boehner:

We all know that Obamacare is a bad deal for Americans. It puts bureaucrats between doctors and patients, it is costly for taxpayers, and it will be a job-killer for businesses in our already fragile economy. Since its enactment, the Republican Conference has voted more than 40 times to repeal this law. Unfortunately, the Senate has failed to act.

Most recently, the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) came out with special regulations – at the request of the president – to allow the federal government to contribute money toward the health care premiums of Members of Congress and their employees, under Obamacare.

It is time for all of Congress to be held accountable.

With that in mind, we are writing today to request that any Continuing Resolution considered by the House of Representatives moving forward include The Ross Amendment that would ensure that the president, vice president, political appointees, Members of Congress and their staff don't get a "fix" from Obamacare.

This would be a responsible way of solving the CR crisis to keep the government funded, and would ensure that Congress lives under all the burdens of Obamacare.

If our constituents cannot get a "fix," neither should we. Americans across the country would love to have this burdensome law "fixed" for them, but unfortunately, that won't happen. If it cannot happen for our constituents, it should not happen for Members of Congress and their staff.

This amendment will put Members on record as to whether or not they support special carve outs from the hastily drafted and passed Obamacare.

Thank you for considering this request.

Sincerely,

Dennis Ross
Member of Congress

Bill Posey
